CIMA Systems Voted “Best in Class” by 100 Angel Investors and Venture Capitalists

CIMA Systems Wins One of Only 50 National Spots in Pitching Across America Competition

(Pleasanton,CA) December 5, 2006 – CIMA Systems, a Customer Interactive Management Application (CIMA) that helps serve as a 24-hour automated business development center for dealerships, proudly announces that they have been chosen as a winner of Fundingpost’s Pitching Across America Competition.

The competition enables entrepreneurs to pitch their company to over 100 angel investors and venture capitalist, who then name the “best in class” offerings in each state. CIMA Systems was chosen as the winner for the state of California and one of only 50 winners nationwide.

“We are very excited to be recognized by venture capitalists across the country based on our ideas, business model and company direction,” said Gary Nixon, President & CEO of CIMA Systems. “It shows us we’re moving ahead with new and exciting solutions for dealers in the automotive industry and we couldn’t be more honored.”

In addition to being chosen as a winner, CIMA Systems will be listed on the FundingPost website, have a company summary in Venture Guide Magazine, an investment guide that is sent to more than 400 investors nationwide, and will attend all FundingPost events free for the year.

“We’re honored to bring innovative companies like CIMA Systems together with interested investors and Venture Capitalists,” said [Fundingpost representative.] “Being a winner of the Pitching Across America Competition makes CIMA a part of an exclusive group of companies who have the strength of over 100 VCs behind their ideas.”

About CIMA Systems

CIMA Systems was founded in 2001 with the goal of creating an automated customer interaction tool for the automotive Industry. After years worth of development time, CIMA Systems, a Customer Interactive Management Application (CIMA), was born. The application helps serve as a 24 hour, automated BDC for dealerships. Developed exclusively for the automotive Industry, CIMA helps dealers communicate with their customers in the way the customer wants to be contacted, via telephone, mail, email or text message and analyzes the success of those communications with reporting and mapping tools.
